Field of the Invention

The invention relates to video and music distribution systems and, more particularly, to systems that blanket transmit video/audio content such as movies and 15 music selections (for example, via satellite downlink transmission) to each customer's computer-based recording, storage and playback system. Customers preselect from a list of available movies, music or other content in advance using an interactive screen selector, and pay for only the 20 video/audio content that is actually viewed or music actually recorded for unlimited playback.

Description of the Prior Art

Widespread home television viewing began in 25 approximately 1950 with broadcast networks transmitting shows on specific, prepublished schedules. This model
